

The Age Of Access The New Culture Of Hypercapitalism The New Culture Of Hypercapitalism Where All Of Life Is A Paid For Experience By Jeremy Rifkin

"Pressestimmen 'One basic economic rule, as Mr. Rifkin points out, has not changed since Roman times: caveat emptor. In the brave new wired world, it will be ever more difficult for the buyer to beware of technology speeding forward in nanoseconds, controlled by global giants.' --The New York Times'Rifkin's vision of corporate capitalism dematerializing into webs of access of networks of 'virtual' power is startling and compelling.' --William Greider, author of One World, Ready or Not Synopsis How the Internet is Fundamentally Changing all our Lives; Imagine waking up one day to find that virtually every activity you engage in outside your immediate family has become a 'paid for' experience. It is all part of a fundamental change taking place in the nature of business, contends Jeremy Rifkin. After several hundred years as the dominant organising paradigm of civilisation, the traditional market system is beginning to deconstruct. On the horizon looms the Age of Access, an era radically different from any we have known.
