Toutes les prises de vue ont été effectuées en apnée, entre la surface et 60 mètres de profondeur, aux quatre coins de la planète, et en lumière naturelle. Aucun élément des photographies n'a été enlevé, déplacé ou modifié. En 2004, après dix ans de compétition et quatre records du monde, Fred Buyle s'oriente vers l'image sous-marine en apnée, afin de limiter l'impact sur le milieu et d'approcher les animaux sans les déranger. Il partage son temps entre la photographie sous-marine, l'enseignement de l'apnée, le marquage des requins et le tournage de documentaires.. APNEA ACADEMY INT.
